

Contents

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Editorial   | 3   |
| Reducing Reoffending: Choices and ChallengesIAN O'DONNELL   | 6   |
| Developing an Irish Offender Supervision Framework:A Whole System ApproachIOAN DURNESCU, MARGARET GRIFFIN and JOHN SCOTT  | 24  |
| Tackling Substance Misuse from a Problem-Solving Justice ApproachDR GERALDINE O'HARE and PETER LUNEY  | 43  |
| 'Why Would You Choose to Study Sex Offenders?':Assisted Desistance and Reintegration of Perpetrators of Sexual HarmCLARE CRESSWELL  | 63  |
| The Potential Role of Recovery Capital in Stopping Sexual Offending:Lessons from Circles of Support and Accountability to Enrich PracticeKIERAN McCARTAN and HAZEL KEMSHALL | 87  |
| Engaging with Mental Health Challenges in Probation PracticeCHRISTINA POWER   | 107 |
| 'There are Fourteen Grey Areas': 'Jailing', Professionalism andLegitimacy in Prison Officers' Occupational CulturesJOE GARRIHY  | 128 |
| The Management of People Serving Life Sentences in Ireland:A Multidisciplinary ModelANNA FLYNN and MARITA COSTIGAN  | 151 |

---

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Reflections on a Pandemic: How COVID-19 Impacted upon Probation Practice in Northern IrelandJEAN O'NEILL and GAIL McGREEVY  | 168 |
| COVID-19 Pandemic: Practitioner Reflections on Probation PracticeSHEENA NORTON  | 183 |
| 'Helping Others and Helping Myself': Wounded Healers as Peer WorkersMARGUERITE WOODS  | 191 |
| Promising Directions for Intimate Partner Violence Prevention: The Case of Northern IrelandÁINE TRAVERS and TRACEY McDONAGH | 212 |
| Partnership Working Towards More Effective ResettlementMARK NICHOLSON and STEVIE MANN                                       | 228 |
| Interactions with the Traveller Community by Prison and Probation StaffDENIS C. BRACKEN                                     | 238 |
| Book Reviews  | 253 |